

Faith

I woke up in the middle of the desert. I was a little starving but more thirsty. I saw an angel before me clothed in white. He had massive nose and scanty eyes like chines eyes, big mouth with equiseta lips. He was tall yet obesity as well and he wore no shoes maybe because of the wings he had.

I was so amazed at him because all the phenotypes he had were precisely my physical characteristics. It was Genuine me but with different clothes and wings. I never saw any of his teeth as he never smiled at me.

“You had disappointed me... and you shall seek for it and I shall not escort you to it” he said to me with furiousness and he was nowhere to be seen at the moment. I closed my eyes thinking it was just a dream as usual but the matter became supremely solemn. I slowly opened my eyes thinking maybe it was one of my imagination stories but the desert was real and true. I was there and with nobody. The words kept on playing in my cerebrum. I stood up to seek for what I did not know. I didn't know where west or east was neither south nor north. The thirstiness accumulated gradually. I walked about hundred n fifty something kilometers but neither could I see where to go. Later on, it was twilight then it's where I saw peculiar things. The moons were sixteen yet no darkness was present in the atmosphere. I realized that I was away from earth. Fear developed in me, I then knelt down for the first time to pray. "Father I kneel before you to ask for forgiveness and agreeing that I have sin against you" I felt down, abruptly and swiftly I was taken by the Angel. It was the same Angel but this time feeling pity for me. He had a glass in his right hand, he then said to me "drink". I couldn't waste any more time but griped it and sip. I didn't know what was inside the cup but it tasted like milk a little. It looked like pure water.

I thanked him but he said I should thank the creator of myself as his wrath hasn't acted upon me. I was astonished yet I couldn't comprehend his saying. "I'll escort you to invade to earth but from there you'll be on your own". Still I didn't understand. He put his right hand in my head then I was in earth and that it was the last time I saw him. People were moving to and fro. Some were stained in pieces, some given codes in their foreheads. I stood up for a better view, and asked one of those moving people "what's going on?" The one I was asking looked so anxious, seeking but never find. Some were screaming and running. She asked me the question and gave me answer "You haven't heard? It's the last minutes of the world. Water for eternity of life is what everyone is looking for..." she looked so tired and much thirsty than I was, when I was at the desert. She continued "Jesus and the almighty God, they've given us a chance to find water of life then all of us will be forgiven. Keep on looking". At last I had a clue of what was going on. I was terrified because I had so many dreams in that world but it was eventually dying. I had to calm down, as I was standing. Just before I could start looking at the eternity life a creature like man came to me. He had three horns, three eyes, three hands, three legs, two noses and two mouths. "Do you believe that Jesus died for you?" he asked me with a base voice. I couldn't terror his look but fearing to give the answer he was not looking for. I gaze at him with no doubt and said "yes" while I knee down. It seemed like I was being control. The beast like man was gruesome but I didn't fear it. He then with pride said " you had chosen the wrong path because you are about to have slow painful death". The drops of fire began as I was the last human without code still inhaling oxygen and exhaling carbon dioxide remained in that sinful world whilst the beast looked straight into my eyes. As I was already down on my knees I prayed to my savior. "Father I know that it is written that Jesus Christ is the bread, water and eternity life. So I permit that to perforate in my heart. I believe that Jesus Christ died for, is my savior and success in my life. I shall fear nothing even they can place me in the path of death". I was done praying and I was ready for anything to take place. When I opened my eyes, everyone was burning who had a code in their foreheads. The peculiar man before me kept on saying "he has found the eternity life" time and again. The people who were slew, their pieces came together and came to life. The earth began a new life with honest and faithful humans.
